Author information:

2. Copyright transfer. The listed authors warrant that they are the authors and sole owners of the submitted manuscript. The authors also warrant that the work is original; that it has not been previously published in print or electronic format and is not under consideration by another publisher or electronic medium; that it has not been previously transferred, assigned, or otherwise encumbered; and that the authors have full power to grant such rights. With respect to the results of this work, the manuscript of this or substantially similar content will not be submitted to any other journal until the review process in the JSER has been officially completed (acceptance or rejection of the manuscript).

The paper will not be withdrawn from the review process by the JSER Editorial Board until the review process is completed. The authors will comply with the requests of the JSER Editors and reviewers to improve the paper for publication. The unavoidable disagreements will be submitted in a written form; the authors are aware that the disagreement(s) with the JSER's requests may result in the rejection of the manuscript. The authors hereby grant to the JSER the right to edit, revise, abridge, and condense the manuscript.

If the manuscript is accepted for publication in the JSER, the authors hereby transfer the copyright of the paper to the JSER. The authors permit the JSER to allow third parties to copy any part of the journal without asking for permission, provided that the reference to the source is given.

For papers with more than one author: I agree to allow the corresponding author to make decisions regarding prepublication release of information in the paper to the media, federal agencies, or both.
